From BART:

Disembark your train at the Downtown Berkeley station. From the underground train platform, take the stairs or escalator up to the station concourse. On the station concourse, go through the turnstiles leading to Constitution Plaza exits. Take the escalator up into the metal-and-glass rotunda, which exit to Constitution Plaza. As you exit the BART rotunda, turn immediately to your right and walk to the corner. You will be facing Center Street and should see a Wells Fargo building across the street. Cross Center Street and turn immediately left, walking west on Center Street along the side of the Wells Fargo building. Walk almost to the end of the block and look for the entrance to our building, just before the corner of Center St. and Milvia St. The entrance is through a set of double glass doors. (There is a Disability Rights Advocates (DRA) logo on the glass wall next to the doors.)

Alameda County (AC) Transit bus route No. 15 provides service to the corner of Center St. and Milvia St., just outside NCCC’s Berkeley office. One-way fares are generally $1.75 for adults or $0.85 for Seniors/Disabled. You must pay exact fare in cash when boarding. For route and trip planning, contact AC transit at 510-839-2931 or at: www.actransit.org.

BearTransit is U.C. Berkeley’s shuttle system, servicing the campus and vicinity. Anyone can ride the shuttles, which provide convenient transportation between points on campus, Downtown Berkeley BART, parking lots, and surrounding areas. For detailed schedule and fare information, visit pt.berkeley.edu/beartransit. The Richmond Field Station (RFS) Line stops at Center St. and Shattuck Ave., next to the Wells Fargo building, just up the street from the Berkeley office. It runs Monday through Friday from 6:45 a.m. to 6:10 p.m. at varying intervals and the fare is $1.00.

SECURITY: The Berkeley office is attended by a security guard. To ease your visit, please observe the following:

Advanced Notice: If possible, visitors should notify the Berkeley office prior to their arrival so the guard can be made aware of their visit. Those who come to the office for an organized meeting do not need to notify the office beforehand. Visitors not attending an organized meeting who arrive unannounced will need to tell the guard the name of the person they have come to visit, so s/he can contact that person for permission to admit them into the building.

Sign-in: Visitors will be asked to sign the visitor log at the guard’s desk in the lobby of the building.

Elevator Access: The building elevators are accessible by card-key only. After signing in, visitors will be granted access to the seventh floor by the security guard. If the security guard is not present upon a visitor’s arrival, the visitor can call upstairs and one of our staff members can come down to grant access to our suite.

Building Hours: The building’s main doors are open for visitors from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on all weekdays. If arriving outside of those hours, visitors will need to call the person they are visiting to let them into the building.
