

Please SAVE THE DATE and Join Us in OAKLAND for the 6th Annual

African American Breast Cancer Conference

"Each One Reach One: Working Together to Make a Change"

EORO (Each One Reach One) is an annual program intended to help raise awareness about breast cancer in African American communities throughout the Greater San Francisco Bay Area, with a special focus on mind, body, and spiritual healing.

Saturday May 1, 2010 ■ 7:30am – 4:30pm (tentatively)

Conference Center at The Cathedral of Christ the Light

2121 Harrison Street, Oakland 94612

REGISTRATION: $20 per person (Opens January 27, 2010)

For Cancer Patients, Survivors, Spouses, Caregivers, Family Members, Community Advocates, Health Professionals & those interested in the general public. Limited scholarships available.

Conference Highlights

- ◆ What African American women need to know about breast cancer risks, prevention, screening, and the importance of early detection
- ◆ Latest clinical updates, treatment options, & advances in breast cancer, including a discussion on triple negative breast cancer
- ◆ Psychosocial support and other survivorship resources
- ◆ Support for spouses/partners, caregivers and family members
- ◆ Learn how to be your own health advocate
- ◆ Cancer survivors share their personal stories and experiences
- ◆ 150+ culturally appropriate resources and information
- ◆ Helpful advice from breast health experts
- ◆ Excellent networking opportunities
- ◆ Breakfast and lunch provided and many more surprises...

Are you or someone you know interested in sponsoring this important event? Are you able to volunteer? Contact Pamela Ratliff at 510.608.5030 for more information.

For more info or to register, contact Pamela Ratliff at NCCC Community Education

Email: education@nccc.org, Phone: 1.888.315.5988, Website: www.nccc.org

Sponsor: Northern California Cancer Center. Co-Sponsor: Women's Cancer Resource Center. Partners: Alameda County Medical Center's Cancer Navigator Program, American Cancer Society, and National Cancer Institute's Cancer Information Service.