

Is what you see in the mirror a true representation of who you are inside?

Could you use some help in improving your overall look?

Are changes in your physical appearance affecting your mood?

No Cost

Skincare Tips

Networking

Style Tips

Raffle Prizes

Stress Management

Free Parking

Hair Tips

Makeovers

Food

Goodie Bags

Near BART

Northern California Cancer Center

presents

Relax, Refresh, and Renew: Beauty and Style Transformations for African American Women Living with Cancer III

An interactive and fun workshop to promote positive body image, health, and living!

Saturday, August 29, 2009

8:00am – 2:30pm

Washington West, Andersons A – C

2500 Mowry Avenue, Fremont 94538

No-Cost to attend. Registration required. Seating limited so register early! For more information or to register for this event, contact: Pamela A. Ratliff, NCCC's Community Education Program at 1.888.315.5988, by email at education@nccc.org, or visit us at www.nccc.org.

Program sponsored by the Northern California Cancer Center (NCCC) in collaboration with the Alameda County Medical Center's Cancer Navigator Program, American Cancer Society, National Cancer Institute's Cancer Information Service, and the Women's Cancer Resource Center. Support for this program provided by NCCC, Washington Hospital Healthcare System, and Panda Express.